FIP Promises in Quito The last weekend before the Venice Finals

The city of Quito, in Ecuador, hosts the last stop of the FIP Promises circuit – alongside Buenos Aires – before the Venice Finals, an event that marks the conclusion of the international youth season. The competition features three categories: Under 14, Under 16, and Under 18, with a total of four draws: 3 male and 1 female dedicated to the Under 14 category.

Mathias Armijos and Walter Solorzano are the top seeds in the Under 14 male category, while in the female draw, Amalia Subia and Mia Andrade lead the upper bracket. In the Under 16 male category, Paul Villacis and Daniel Aguero emerge as favorites. Lastly, in the Under 18 male category, David Aguero and Darek Figueroa are the top seeds.

With the semifinals and finals scheduled for Sunday, the countdown to the Venice Finals has begun. The Quito stop represents a unique showcase for young talents and enthusiasts of this ever-growing sport.
